

HONOR RETIRING PRESIDENT.

Handsome Presentation to James G. Duffin of Central States Mission.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30.—President James G. Duffin, with Elders Hyrum M. Smith and Charles H. Hart, visited the various states comprising the Central States mission and held general conference in each. Upon their return to this city a farewell was given in honor of the departing president.

The mission house at 1405 Locust street was beautifully decorated and the following program was rendered: Opening song, "Our God, we raise to Thee."

Opening prayer, John S. Hill. Song, "O ye mountains high." Welcome address was given by Elder Charles H. White.

Quartet, "God bless and guard our mountain home," by Elders L. Vivian Hinckley, John S. Hill, William Priestley and Joseph E. Hart.

Recitation, La Mar Berry. On remarks by Elder Hyrum M. Smith. The quartet sang, "Utah, we love thee."

Remarks by Charles H. Hart. Song, "Joseph Smith's First Prayer," by Hazel Evans.

As a token of their love and esteem, the elders who have labored under the direction of President James G. Duffin, since he has retired from this mission, presented to him a quartered oak desk, a typewriter and office chair.

The presentation address was made by Elder S. O. Benson, assisted by a farewell talk by President James G. Duffin.

The quartet sang "Farewell," a selection composed by Elder Charles H. White.

Benediction, Osborn Richards. Brother A. J. Evans and wife and their daughter Hazel of Alpine state, Utah county, were here visiting their son, William E. Evans.

On their return home they were accompanied by Sister Ada Evans, who was released from her labors as recording secretary of the mission. Sister Evans has performed her labors faithfully.

Elder Duffin having been honorably released from his mission duties, returns home to pursue the avocations of life. He will engage with his brothers and sons in horticultural pursuits under the name of the Duffin Bros. & Sons Fruit company, located at Provo.

They are the owners of two fine commercial orchard sites on Provo, comprising several hundred acres, over 40 acres are now in fruit. They will grow principally peaches, apples, cherries and grapes.

MISSION WORK ACCOMPLISHED. During the time that Elder James G. Duffin has been presiding in the Central States mission the following work has been done and changes made:

The work covers a period of six and a half years, and does not include six months that he labored in the state of Texas as traveling elder and president of a conference before taking charge of the mission. The work done as expressed by statistics for the six and a half years is as follows:

Families of strangers visited for the first time in presenting the gospel, 769,314; families revisited, 55,228; visits to members of the Church, 66,994; gospel conversions, 738,879; tracts distributed, 1,148,848; books disposed of, 64,439; books loaned, 14,807; meetings held, 42,036; attendance at the meetings, 944,788; baptisms performed, 1,898, and children blessed, 1,576.

The following buildings are now owned by the saints and the Church in the mission: Two good meetinghouses in the state of Kansas, two in Indian Territory, three in Texas, two in Louisiana and two in Arkansas. Seven of these have been built since 1901 without cost to the Church. There has been secured for Church purposes real estate in the states of Kansas, Missouri and Texas.

In Texas a strong colony has been established, at which point, Kelsey, Upshur county, was laid out in November, 1902, by Elders Owen A. Woodruff and James G. Duffin.

At this place there are now about 350 members of the Church. A good day school with two competent teachers, Sunday school, Mutual Improvement association and Relief society are in good running order. In East Kansas another flourishing branch has been established, which now has membership of 1,200 and 30. The Sunday school work is in good condition throughout the mission, there being successful operation of over 20 schools in successful operation.

A very important work accomplished during the past four years has been the revising of all the records of the mission, including historical and statistical. This work took three years to complete in which to complete it. These records are as follows:

Conference Records—Eight genealogical records, eight historical records, and eight statistical records, all in use at present time; 42 general and statistical records, four historical records and six Sunday school records, all complete.

Mission Records—One genealogical record, one statistical record and one historical record, all in use at present time.

OTHER SIDE OF MORMONISM. Liverpool, England, Nov. 17.—A short time ago Elders Brough and Olson, returning from the Irish conference, went to the town of Banbridge to distribute tracts, and to testify to the people of the restoration of the everlasting gospel. As might be expected, their appearance in the town at once aroused the anger of some of the sectarian preachers, and they promptly denounced Mormonism from their pulpits and warned their followers against receiving the elders into their homes. The minister of the Baptist church, preached a special sermon on Mormonism, and reported the same coming to the attention of Elder William A. Morton, who was formerly a resident of Banbridge, he wrote a reply, which was published in the Banbridge Chronicle, the paper in which the report of the sermon appeared, was kind enough to publish in full, making nearly three columns of solid reading matter. Elder Morton made a strong defense of Mormonism, replying to every item contained in the minister's attack. It is gratifying to note that the minister took the trouble to write the reply, and that the paper had the fairness to publish it in full.

CONFERENCE AT SHEFFIELD. The Sheffield semi-annual conference was held Sunday, Oct. 28, 1906, in the Cambridge hall, Sheffield, England. The evening session was presided over by Grant of the European mission, Brother Willard Andelin, President Thomas L. Schofield and 18 traveling elders of the Sheffield conference.

expressed in the songs of Zion. Said they were prayers to God. He then dwelt at some length on the fruits of Mormonism every hour." was sung during the afternoon and evening meetings by Brother Willard Andelin.

During the day a good spirit was manifest and all the saints felt well repaid for attending the conference. On Monday morning, the 29th inst., President Grant met with the elders in council meeting and gave them valuable instructions pertaining to their work.

JOHN J. HENDRY, Clerk of Conference. Millennium Star.

NO. COLORADO CONFERENCE. Lafayette, Colo., Nov. 19.—The North Colorado semi-annual conference convened in Miners' hall, Lafayette, Colo., Conference President Jas. P. Baxter presiding. The first public meeting was held Saturday evening, Nov. 17. Elders E. Wood and Wm. E. Robinson each addressed the people upon the principles of the gospel, and bore testimony to the truthfulness of the same, after which a quartet sang the evening hymns.

President Joseph A. McRae spoke of the mission of the prophets sent to earth as witnesses to the world. Three sessions of conference were held on Sunday, Nov. 18, morning, afternoon and evening. In the morning Elder Nathan T. Anderson, of the same conference, made some remarks relative to this subject. He was followed by President J. McRae, who spoke of the mission of the Mormon Elders.

The speakers of the afternoon session were Elders Jno. W. Scofield of the mission office; Walter Walker, Jas. P. Baxter and J. Brigham Wilson, who spoke upon different features of Mormonism, and bore their testimonies. During the evening session, the singing "Hallelujah to Heaven," was rendered by Jas. P. Baxter and Wm. E. Robinson, and a violin solo by Elder Jas. O'Neill, Jr. and a song, "The Spirit of the Lord," by Elder J. A. McRae, then dwelt at length upon the evidences of the divine authenticity of the Book of Mormon.

A part of the evening's program was a violin solo by Elder Jas. O'Neill, Jr. and a song, "The Spirit of the Lord," by Elder J. A. McRae, then dwelt at length upon the evidences of the divine authenticity of the Book of Mormon.

The Elders met in priesthood meeting Monday, Nov. 19, where council in regard to their future labor was given by Conference President Jas. P. Baxter. The elders were assigned their fields of labor as follows:

Elders W. M. Black and Jas. O'Neill, Jr. to Boulder county; N. T. Curtis and E. W. Ward to Montezuma; Wm. E. Robinson and Walter Walker, to Cheyenne, Wyo.; Conference President Jas. P. Baxter and J. Brigham Wilson will go to Greeley, Colorado.

On account of the inclement weather the general conference of the stake was not held as expected, but all present enjoyed the meetings and an excellent time was spent. The general conference was held at the residence of the president, at which time the following were present: President J. A. McRae, then dwelt at length upon the evidences of the divine authenticity of the Book of Mormon.

The "News" and Era are always greatly appreciated by the missionaries.

J. BRIGHAM WILSON, Secretary.

ST. JOHN'S STAKE. The quarterly conference of the St. John's stake of Zion was held in the stake academy building in St. John's, Arizona, Nov. 16, 17 and 18, 1906. There were in attendance David K. Udall, Charles P. Anderson and William D. Rencher of the stake presidency, 19 members of the high council and alternates, Bishops O. E. Overton, Joseph Udall, Jason Wilkins, William J. Burk and S. L. Leitch, and a good attendance of the saints from the different wards.

A very encouraging report of the general condition of the stake was given by President Charles P. Anderson, showing that the stake was in a more thriving condition than it has been for several years past.

The bishops reported their wards as being in a state of progression. The saints were striving to perform their spiritual duties and the officers of the journey organizations have the spirit of their callings and take great interest in the work assigned them. The temporal condition of the different wards is very encouraging, a fruitful harvest having just been reaped in all the wards.

Many valuable instructions and explanations of the gospel were given by the stake presidency, high council, and bishops of wards, which had a tendency to strengthen and encourage the saints in striving to serve the Lord.

Elder G. H. Crosby, Jr., who has labored for the past two years as a faithful alternate member of the high council was honorably released on account of his intention of moving from this stake the first of the year.

O. E. OVERSON, Clerk.

unanimously sustained, and that very heartily. The health of the people was reported as fairly good. Crops were reported as heavy in all sections of the country.

The loss sustained by the Tabor saints in the burning of their meeting-house was reported by Bishop Van Orman, who said that they were to have a new and more beautiful edifice in which to hold their Memorial services on Nov. 23. The spirit with which this small but growing community has grasped the situation and donated to the erection of a new house for public worship is truly heroic and is to be commended.

The auxiliary organizations are busily engaged in the dissemination of gospel truths among the youth of the stake and much good is being accomplished through their instrumentality. The annual fair snowstorms held of this year for several weeks and permitted the harvesting of the greater part of the beet crops and the farmer with his share of the pronounced bounty will be able to pass a more pleasant winter than heretofore. We are especially favored in this land with a government that sees to it that the farmer gets his share of the money granted by the government for the sustaining of the country through the bounty system.

GEORGE H. BUDD, Stake Clerk.

ALBERTA STAKE. The regular quarterly conference of the Alberta stake was held in the Cardston ward assembly hall, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 17 and 18, the president of the stake, Edward J. Wood, presiding. There were present the stake presidency, high council, bishops and leading elders of the stake and Elder Richard Lambert of Salt Lake City.

Saturday afternoon the opening exercises of the conference were addressed by members of the high council, Elders Edward J. Wood, of the stake presidency, and Richard G. Lambert upon the general duties of the saints.

Sunday, 18, the forenoon was occupied by the Sunday school; in the afternoon the presidency of the 121st quorum of seventy addressed the congregation, after which the general authorities of the Church, and local authorities of the stake were present and unanimously sustained by the conference.

Elder Edward J. Wood of the stake presidency reported the favorable condition of the people throughout the stake generally, cautioned the saints against the sins of intemperance and Sabbath breaking, and gave an outline of the duties recently assigned to members and alternates of the high council and presidency of high priests' quorums in acting as aids to the various quorums of the priesthood and auxiliary organizations of the stake.

Elders Sterling Williams and Thomas Duce of the stake presidency made short addresses. The congregations were as large as usual, owing to the inclemency of the weather.

SYLVESTER LEW, Clerk.

UINTAH STAKE. The quarterly conference of Uintah Stake of Zion was held at Vernal Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 17 and 18. The attendance increased from the first meeting until the house would not accommodate the people that turned out Sunday afternoon. The weather is cold and it has been snowing until nearly a foot of snow has accumulated. The most interesting conferences of the most interesting conferences of Uintah stake was held.

President William H. Smart of Gordon Bennion and Thomas Smart of the stake presidency, also the two Patriarchs and a good representation of the High Council, stake and ward officers were present. Maeser and Vernal wards furnished the music.

President William H. Smart gave a report of the October general conference. He said he never attended a better conference, that the spirit here felt was one of loyalty to the government of the United States and loyalty to the doctrine of Jesus Christ.

It was shown that there is no inconsistency between the two, but that to be loyal to God and His children makes for loyalty to the country and its Constitution. That there is no Latter-day saint who is not a citizen, that it is disloyal to the government.

President Smart reported that a very interesting and successful Relief society conference was held at Naples ward Thursday, Nov. 21.

The reports of the different wards reported their respective organizations, and the general condition of the saints is good.

Saturday afternoon President Thomas Smart addressed the saints and bore his testimony to the truthfulness of the gospel.

Sunday morning Elder Don E. Colton of the High Council was the principal speaker.

President Harden Bennion read a report of the progress of the new tabernacle and explained the plans to complete the building. The plastering is nearly finished now.

In the evening a M. I. A. conference was held, a good musical and literary program was carried out. Reports of the work showed a healthy condition in those quorums presided over by Wm. H. Smart addressed the young people.
